COMMITTEE IS TO BE APPOINTED

Brownstown Telephone Subscribers and Commercial Club Have Meeting Thursday Night.

TELEPHONE RATES DISCUSSED

Many Are Opposed to Increased Telephone Rate There—Large Crowd Attends Session.

About one hundred interested telephone subscribers were present at a meeting called by the Brownstown Commercial Club Thursday evening to discuss the telephone rate increase which became effective there July 1. The large crowd included a number of interested persons from Vallonia and Crothersville had sent word that they would have a delegation at the meeting but none from there showed up.

The telephone rate increase was discussed from every angle and it was the general opinion of those in attendance that the new rate was too high. Talks were made in opposition to the increased rate by several Brownstown citizens.

L. C. Griffitts, president, and E. S. Welch, superintendent of the Brownstown Telephone Company, were present at the meeting. Mr. Griffitts addressed the meeting for a short time laying the telephone situation before those present from the company's viewpoint. C. S. Mercer, of this city, was also in attendance at the meeting and spoke at some length explaining the reason for the telephone rate increase.

As a result of the Brownstown meeting it was decided that a committee should be appointed to take up the rate increase with the telephone company and see if some satisfactory compromise could not be reached. The committee will consist of representatives from Brownstown, Crothersville and Vallonia who will be named within the next few days and arrangements will be made for an early meeting.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION IS GRANTED BY SPECIAL JUDGE

Improvement Work at Crothersville Will be Held Up Until the October Term of Court Convenes.

Frank Branaman, a Brownstown attorney acting as special judge in the injunction suit brought by Crothersville residents to enjoin the trustees of the town of Crothersville from completing the construction of a water work plant, several miles of concrete streets and a modern sewerage system, this afternoon granted a temporary restraining order.

It will be recalled that the suit was filed in the Bartholomew circuit court and Judge Donaker held that he had no jurisdiction in the case. The case was refiled in the Jackson circuit court and Frank Branaman was appointed special judge to hear the case which was tried Thursday. As a result of the injunction being granted further action in the case cannot be taken until the next term of court convenes.

Frank Wieneke Home After Serving Nine Months With U. S. Army in Russia.

HAS INTERESTING EXPERIENCE

Says 339th Infantry Was Fighting for Fifty Days in Russia After Armistice Was Signed.

Frank Wieneke, formerly employed at the Groub wholesale house which position he left to enlist in the service, arrived here Thursday to spend a few days with friends and make arrangements to resume his former position. He has been spending several days with his parents in Indianapolis.

During his service in Russia, Mr. Wieneke spent five days with Edwin O. Heuser, formerly of this city, who is connected with the City National Bank of New York in foreign service. Mr. Heuser later left Russia and spent several months in Holland and England, returning recently.

Mr. Wieneke was stationed in Russia for about nine months with the 339th infantry which received much notoriety throughout the world as a result of a mutiny starting on March 29. In speaking of the mutiny Mr. Wieneke stated that it practically amounted to nothing and that it was more or less exaggerated in the public press.

According to his story, on the morning of March 29 the 339th regiment was ordered to the front near Archangel, Russia. The enlisted personnel of the outfit rested with the opinion that they were being imposed on. A mutiny resulted and a number of enlisted men were selected to wait on the officers of the regiment and find out what they were

CORN IS TASSELING IN MANY LOCAL FIELDS

Fine Corn Prospects are Reported Throughout the County—Rain is Needed.

Corn has begun to tassel, according to reports from different farmers from over the county. Some farmers report that the corn prospects are the best for years in this vicinity and a bumper crop is predicted.

The early corn is looking fine and if a good rain would come it would improve the crop wonderfully. One farmer predicts that if at least one or two rains can be had each week for the next month the corn crop will be the largest for years.

BIG GAIN IS MADE IN APPRAISEMENTS

Figures Prepared by Auditor Show Assessment for County Will be Almost Double That of 1918.

REPORT IS NOT COMPLETED

Assessment of Public Utilities and Railroads Has Not Been Added —Seymour $4,754,430.

Albert Luedtke, county auditor, and James Branaman, assessor, are completing the tabulation of the tax figures for Jackson county. Brownstown township and the town of Brownstown are not yet complete, but will be included in the report shortly. The figures available show that the appraisement for the entire county will be almost twice that of last year. In 1918 the appraisement for the county was $14,757,140, exclusie of public utilities.

The appraisements for the cities, towns and townships for this year already totaled, but not including public utilities and corporations ap-

Jackson County Representative Sees Necessity of Enacting Important Legislation.

AMENDMENT TO SUFFRAGE LAW

Believes Women Should Vote at Same Booths and on Same Ballots as Men to Reduce Expense.

Frank B. Butler, representative from Jackson county to the state legislature, favors the calling of a special session of the legislature for the enacting of several laws which he regards as essential and important. He believes that no time should be lost in the ratification of the suffrage amendment and that the Indiana election laws ought to be changed so that women may vote at the same booths and use the same ballots that the men use. This will reduce the cost of the elections throughout the state, he points out, and will be a direct economical benefit to the taxpayers.

Governor Goodrich recently announced that he would call a special session of the legislature for the last week in August or the first week in September. The exact date has not been announced.

"I favor calling a special session of the legislature for the ratification of the suffrage amendment," declared Representative Butler when asked what he thought of the plan. "I am also in favor of amendments to our present election laws to permit women to vote at the same

DAYLIGHT SAVING REPEAL AGAIN INCLUDED IN BILL

Action Taken Despite Fact That President Wilson Has Already Vetoed Bill Once.

By United Press

Washington, July 18.—Repeal of the daylight saving plan was again attached as a rider to the agricultural appropriation bill by the house agricultural committee today. This action was taken despite the fact that President Wilson has already vetoed the bill once because of the daylight bill repeal.

Administration foes determined to force the agricultural bill and repeal clause through the house and put it before the president again. The new bill differs from the one already vetoed in that it exempts from appeal the standard time zones which were established in the original daylight saving act.

Concert....Bohumir Kryl and His Band.

One of the biggest programs of the entire chautauqua week will be presented Saturday night by Bohumir Kyrl and his band. The arrangement for the Saturday night program was made possible as Sunday is an open day for the chautauqua circuit talent. The band according to the schedule was to appear here for two concerts Saturday but arrangements were made whereby the regular programs would be given on Sunday afternoon and night and an extra program would be presented Saturday night.

This band is one of the strongest attractions that will appear here during the assembly and it is expected that the tent will be crowded with each of the three entertainments. Band music is popular here and an organization with Kryl as conductor is sufficient to guarantee a program of unusual merit.

Announcement was made by the platform superintendent that hereafter the night sessions will begin at 8:30. This was the hour originally fixed, but last night the session was to start at 8 o'clock. However, it was found that many farmers and Spokane, July 18.—With 30,000 acres of Washington reduced to smoldering ashes, several ranches burned out and thousands of men fighting them forest fires within a fifty miles radius of this city were reported today to be barely holding their own against crews of exhausted fighters. A change in the wind late yesterday saved thousands of acres. The cold night helped check the spread of flames. Only one fire is reported out of control today. About fifty men are going in to fight this blaze.

Berlin, July 17—Germany wants loans or credit from America. Director Wasserman of the Deutsche bank made this clear today in an interview in which he pointed out that raw materials and food were essential if Germany was to meet the obligations of the entente and become a stable member of world society.

German bankers would not make overtures to the Americans, Wasserman said, as they did not know whom to approach, but would wait for American financiers to renew relations.

"There is only one way Germany can be helped at this time," he said. "If she can get copper and other raw materials on credit then she can begin the task of building up her country and repaying her debts. We would want credit for as long a time as was required to produce manufactured goods, with the proceeds

In his letter a part of Regulations No. 49, promulgated by the Commission of Internal Revenue is cited. It is pointed out that the right to exemption can be evidenced by a stand-

WILSON IS GIVING "INSIDE" FACTS

Kellogg, Kenyon, Capper and McNary are Called for Conference With President.

REGARDED AS "OPEN MINDED"

Republicans Not Asked to Change Views But Only to Hear About Certain Decisions.

By United Press

Washington, July 18.—President Wilson today continued his attack on the opposition to the league of nations by calling to the white house four republican senators who are known to be open minded on the subject.

They were Kellogg, Minnesota; Kenyon, Iowa; Capper, Kansas, and McNary, Oregon.

Kellogg has favored a league of nations in principle for some time. Kenyon's attitude is considered doubtful. Capper is known to favor the formation of a league, but would like certain amendments in the present covenant. McNary is believed to be desirous of having some kind of a league organized.

The president was expected to follow the same line of argument that he did yesterday with the first three republican senators to call. He will not ask the senators to change their opinion, but merely give them inside information as to why certain decisions were made at Paris and certain clauses inserted in the treaty.

EDITORIAL IN QUESTION READ IN FORD'S PRESENCE

Plantiff in Million Dollar Libel Suit Says Mobile Army is Big Army.

By United Press

Mt. Clemens, Mich., July 18—A mobile army is a large army, Henry Ford told attorneys questioning him today as a witness in his million-dollar libel suit against the Chicago Tribune.

"Do you know what a mobile army is?" a Tribune lawyer asked.

"A large army," answered Ford. "I don't know much about military affairs," he commented when the attorney defined the term for him.

The definition came out when Tribune lawyers attempted to get an admission from Ford that he did not then know what was in the famous peace advertisements which bore his signature.

Theodore Delavine, his "peace secretary," wrote the advertisements, Ford said and that he had warned Delavigne to "stick closely to facts." Attorney Stevenson of the Tribune staff produced the Tribune editorial which was the basis of the suit.

"Please read it," he said as he offered it to Ford.

The manufacturer asked to be excused.

"Then I'll read it myself," Stevenson said.

"Will you please stop me if I read anything that is of anarchistic nature?"

Ford stopped him when he read the headline.

"Ford is an Anarchist."

At this time some time was lost by arguments of attorneys.

Attorney Lucking, Ford's attorney, called Stevenson's attitude "brutal and inhuman."

JAPAN'S WEIRD MURDER MYSTERY IS SOLVED

Coal Miner Confesses He Killed Six Women and Consumed Part of Flesh.

By United Press

Nagasaki, Japan, July 18.—The weirdest murder mystery in the history of Japan has been solved with the confession of Tokichi Hori, coal miner, that he killed six women and ate part of their flesh. The six mysterious deaths of women, presented the same puzzle—in each case a large piece of flesh had been cut from the victim's right leg. All were killed near the coal mines. Admitthat he killed the women, Hori confessed he consumed the flesh in the belief that only this could cure him of melancholia which affected him for years.

FRIDAY, JULY 18, 1919.

Whatever may be the outcome of Henry Ford's million-dollar libel suit against the Chicago Tribune, his own testimony furnishes sufficient proof that he is not qualified to sit as a member of the United States senate. Ford shows a surprising lack of information about United States history. He is alleged to have stated that all "history is bunk'" and he virtually admits that he holds such an idea. He was unable to tell why the United States was engaged in the war of 1812 and said he didn't know whether the sinking of the battleship Maine precipitated the Spanish-American war. On one day he says he don't know who Benedict Arnold is, but on the day following he testifies that he made that answer because he was thinking about a man in the shop by the name of Arnold who "writes some." Ford is a mechanical and manufacturing genius, but it takes more than that to qualify a man for the United States senate.

The installation of a postlight system in accordance with the plans which were presented to the city council would mark a distinct step of progress for this city. Such a system would beautify the business district, it would chase the shadows and gloom from the streets which are used by the greatest number of people each day, and would prove to the visitor that Seymour is wide awake and aggressive. It is such improvements as this one that ought to be made before we branch out too far. There is much to be done here for the improvement of the city. After some of the principal improvements are made then we will be better prepared to reach out after new enterprises. We must make the foundation for a "bigger Seymour" true and solid.

The chautauqua is proving a splendid success. The entertainments are varied and appeal to the great majority of people. The interest in the program is increasing with each succeeding day. Such a course is not only enjoyable from the entertainment standpoint, but has an educational value.

going to fight for after the armistice had been signed. This was done and the colonel of the outfit called the men together and stated that the only answer that he could give was that they were ordered to the front by the United States army officials and that they would have to go.

According to Mr. Wieneke, little further trouble resulted so far as the mutiny was concerned. However, an American soldier of Polish decent, who was accused of being the agitator of the mutiny, was placed under arrest and held for a few days after which he was released and the matter was dropped. The 339th with three companies of engineers then proceeded to the fighting line where they remained for fifty days battling with the Bolsheviks.

The regiment that Mr. Wieneke was with was doing British duty, it is stated and they even wore at times British uniforms and lived on British rations. Although full of hardships, Mr. Wieneke enjoyed his stay in Russia but like all other "red-blooded" American soldiers was glad to get back in the United States again.

Enroute to America the 339th regiment was in France for ten days. They sailed from France June 3rd and arrived in the United States June 30th.

PUBLISHED FIRE INSURANCE BECAME EFFECTIVE MAY 15

Attorney-General Gives Ruling Relative to Regulations of The 1919 Rating Bureau.

Indianapolis, July 18—Ele Stansbury, attorney general, in an opinion submitted yesterday to Otto L. Klauss, auditor of state, affirmed the State Insurance Department relative to fire insurance rates which became the legal rates May 15 under the 1919 rating bureau law.

The companies contend that the published rates are the legal rates under the law. Miles Scheaffer, head of the Insurance Department, maintains that the "cut rates" or rates that were actually in force on May 15 were the rates that became legal. It is said that about 660 per cent of the insurance written on sprinkler risks, which include business and manufacturing buildings, have been written at the cut rate. If the published rates were accepted as the legal rate the result would be a boost in rates.

The attorney general points out in his opinion that violation of the law by insurance companies is a penal offense. Violations are to be reported to the proper prosecuting attorneys, the opinion says. The opinion reads:

"I find that section 9 said act reads as follows:

" 'All rates, subject to the provisions of this act, that are published or in force upon the day this act becomes effective shall be effective as the bureau rates and changes shall only be made by changes in the risk or hazard. A charge of discrimination shall not be predicted upon any such rates in force at the time this act takes effect.'

"After having carefully gone over the act as a whole, I am of the opinion that a proper construction of the provisions in section 9 will require a holding that in cases where the rates which are in force, as evidenced by the outstanding policies at the time the law took effect, are not the same as the rates indicated in the unofficial tariff sheets or rate publications these evidently by the policies become the legal rates and may be lawfully changed only in the manner provided in the subsequent sections of said act.

"The concluding provision in said section eliminating rates of this character from the penalties for discrimination tends strongly to establish the correctness of the above view, as well as a consideration of the fact that at the time of this enactment it was lawful to write insurance at any rate agreed upon between the parties without reference to any published rates.

"In regard to the enforcement of these provision you will note that in Sec. 21 it is made a penal offense for any insurer to violate any of the provisions of said act, and in event of any violations of the law, it would be proper for you to inform the appropriate prosecuting attorney and lay the facts before him."

POLICE ASKED TO WATCH FOR ALLEGED STOLEN CAR

Stranger Offers New Ford for $500 and Then $300 in Effort to Encourage a Sale.

The local police this morning were asked by officials at Columbus to watch for a Ford automobile which was believed to have been stolen. It was stated that a stranger wearing a blue suit drove into Columbus in the machine and tried at several places to sell it for $500. When he was unable to dispose of it at that price he offered it for $300, it is said. He was unable to sell the machine and was supposed to have driven towards Seymour.

The local authorities motored north towards Columbus but were unable to locate the machine answering the description given them. The car carried a broken Indiana license number plate on the radiator but no license number was displayed on the rear of the car. Local garage owners were notified to watch for the machine.

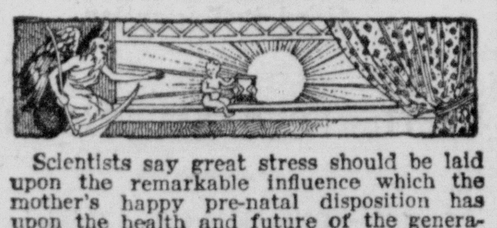
Time Brings Happiness With The Dawn

The Coming of Baby Marks the Advent of a Glorious Future.



Scientists say great stress should be laid upon the remarkable influence which the mother's happy pre-natal disposition has upon the health and future of the generations to come.

There is a splendid preparation women for over half a century have applied before the stork's arrival, known as Mother's Friend. This is a most grateful, penetrating remedy that at once softens and soothes the myriad of broad, flat abdominal muscles under the skin of the abdomen. By its regular use during the period the nerves, tendons and cords are relaxed and there is an absence of nausea, bearing-down pains, strain and general discomfort more often than otherwise experienced when nature is unaided.

By the use of Mother's Friend night and morning the muscles relax with ease when baby comes, the time at the crisis is shorter and pain and danger is naturally avoided.

Write the Bradfield Regulator Company, Dept. E, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their Motherhood Book, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist, by all means, and get into condition to meet the crisis.

Now Is a Good Time To Drive Out Catarrh

The Trouble Is In the Blood.

Summer catarrh, with its nauseous discharge, stuffed up glands, difficult breathing, and summer colds, is bad enough, but the worst of it is yet to come if you neglect to check the growth that is forming to attack you with ten-fold greater power during the winter.

That's why it is so important to treat catarrhs and other blood disorders with S. S. S. during warm weather, and thus free the system from all impurities.

It is now an established fact that catarrh is in the blood and that lotions and salves do not give relief. The experience of others has proven that S. S. S. strikes at the very root of the trouble and eliminates it. Waste no time in this matter, for it is of the utmost importance. Write to our Medical Advisor about your case. HAND GRENADE TO BE USED AS W. S. S. BANKS

War Relics To Be Loaned to Children Until They Save Enough To Buy $15 Stamp.

Indianapolis, July 18—Indiana school children will obtain hand grenade banks through the banks in their respective cities, according to announcement today by Robert E. Springsteen, Director of the Indiana War Savings Committee. In making this announcement, Mr. Springsteen made public a statement by the War Savings organization of the Seventh Federal Reserve District, as follows:

"The hand grenade is the highest modern development of a time-honored weapon. The War Department owned 15,000,000 when the armistice was signed. Some of these are now available through the Savings Division of the Treasury Department for distribution to school children as savings banks to encourage the forming of habits of thrift.

"These hand grenade savings banks are real hand grenades with the percussion caps and high explosives removed. They are, with the exception of the money slot, externally the same as those the Sammies used to clean out crooks and bends in captured trenches, enemy dug-outs and machine gun nests. A live hand grenade was not dangerous until the ring and pin has been withdrawn which freed the trigger that started a percussion cap, resulting in a terriffic explosion within three or five seconds. The small squares of steel thrown by the explosion were deadly within radius of 40 to 50 feet.

Every child or grown-up will want one of these souvenirs of the world war. Only those who are willing to save and help their Government can have them, as the War Savings Organization is the sole distributor in the Seventh Federal Reserve District and we are distributing them through banks and school children under a uniform plan, the conditions of which are as follows:

"1. One grenade is to be loaned to any child under seventeen years of age signing the Thrift agreement.

"2. It is to be opened by the bank, when presented by the child, and Thrift or War Savings Stamps given in exchange for the contents.

"3. It will become the property of the child as soon as he has thus purchased through the bank one or more War Savings Stamps (maturity value $5.00 each). children under 10 being required to buy one War Savings Stamp and those over 10 two Stamps.

"4. The bank is to fill out and give the child at the end of the vacation period (if a school child) a certificate of his summer savings in order that he may present same to his teacher and get credit therefor in the War Savings Society now or hereafter organized in his grade.

"5. If the bank so desires, it may ask the children who earn these souvenirs to write essays on "How I Won My Hand Grenade," offering such essay prizes and publishing such essays as it desires. The War Savings Organization requests copy of the essay winning first honors in case your bank conducts a contest.

"6. After the schools have reopened and the children have been supplied, the hand grenade banks may be given to anyone over 17 years of age who purchases three or more War Savings Stamps."

Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company Made Defendant in Suit Filed in Knox County.

Suits for $10,000 damages was asked in a complaint filed today by John E. Holstein, miner of the Washington & Wheatland Coal Co., residing at Wheatland, against the B. & O. S. W. railroad, for the death of his nineteen months old son Buren, who was cut in two by passenger train No. 1 on June 25, 1919.

The father sets forth that the company had a sawdust pile along their right of way on the east edge of Wheatland and had once had a wire fence about it. The fence had been allowed to deteriorate and that children made this sawdust pile a place to play.

On this date train No. 1, was four hours late. The baby had been playing in the sawdust pile and had wandered through the fence and was standing at the side of the track when the passenger train approached. Russell a ten year old brother of the child seeing the danger of the child rushed to it, but fell through the fence about the sawdust. The baby was struck by the train and literally cut in two about the waist. The train ran for half a mile before it was stopped.

Plaintiff charges negligence for not keeping up the fence, and the maintenance of an attractive nuisance without proper safeguard for the life of the public.—Vincennes Sun.

THANKS EXPRESSED BY LOCAL WOMAN

Mrs. Woodward Shows Deep Gratitude for Trutona Following Quick Relief.

"I Feel I Should Recommend This Tonic to Anyone," Seymour Resident Avers.

"Trutona has relieved me of a great deal of suffering and unpleasantness and I feel that I should recommend it to anyone who is suffering as I did," Mrs. Anna Woodward, a well known Seymour woman residing at 206 Jeff Avenue, said recently.

"Mine was a complication of troubles," Mrs. Woodward continued. "My liver and kidneys were out of shape and I had indigestion and was bothered with nervousness. For the past three months I have had severe pains in my back and sides, especially in my right side. I would become short of breath at times and frequently had severe pains around my heart. I was nervous and couldn't rest well at night. I usually felt so tired and draggy that I could scarcely do my housework.

"The pains in my back and sides have been greatly relieved by Trutona and the pains around my heart have disappeared now. My appetite has improved wonderfully and I can again enjoy my meals. I'm not nervous any more, either, and can rest well at night. And I'm not all tired out after doing my housework these days. I must say that I certainly feel stronger and better now, and I'm glad to recommend Trutona."

Statements of local people are the evidence that convinces even the most skeptical of a medicine's merit. Seymour men and women are rapidly becoming convinced of Trutona's unusual worth and already a number have voiced public praise for the perfect tonic. They have lauded Trutona as a splendid combatant of stomach, bowel and liver troubles, catarrhal affections, nervousness, loss of appetite and the like.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Seymour at W. L. Federmann's Drug Store. j5&18

MUSICAL NUMBERS PLEASE AUDIENCE

others were unable to reach the chautauqua grounds before 8:30.

The program tonight will be a debate "Shall the government own and operate the railroads?" in which Charles Lueblin will take the affirmative and Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury, will discuss the negative. Mr. Zueblin appeared in an address this afternoon in which he discussed "The Great Highway." He referred to the new economic and social conditions and the various phases of life which are to be considered in the reconstruction period.

Mr. Shaw is a speaker of unusual force and ability. His reputation is international and what he has to say relative to government ownership will be heard with interest regardless of the individual views of the auditor.

The musical programs yesterday received general commendation. The Great Lakes String Quartet presented many beautiful numbers and the vocal solos by Mme. Augusta Lenska, Russian prima donna, were of unusual merit. That her work met with the approval of the audience was indicated by the repeated encores following each group of songs.

The crowd at the chautauqua last night was the largest of the week. The tent was filled to capacity and additional benches were carried in from the park auditorium. It is expected that the attendance will continue to increase each day and announcement is made that additional seating arrangements will be made for the accomodation of the crowd.

The children's hour each morning is proving popular. A large number of youngsters meet each forenoon to enjoy the special work that is prepared by the director. On the morning of the last day a pageant will be presented at the chautauqua tent by the children.

LIFE NOW WORTH LIVING

Illinois Lady Says Cardui Wrought Great Change in Her Health.

Paris, Ill.—Miss Lydia Arbogast, of this place, writes: "When I was 16 years old . . . I was small, very small for my age. I had a bad color—had the sick headache all the time. Just dragging through school . . . I didn't feel like going to school and my mother and I were worried about myself, for I felt I couldn't stand that condition longer. Hardly cared to live.

After taking a few bottles of Cardui, I saw a great change in my health . . . my color fine and I began to grow . . . I got well and strong. I was a different girl and have been ever since. I give Cardui all the praise, and had there not been a change in me when I first began Cardui, I couldn't have lived . . . The headache gradually disappeared as my health was built up and life became worth living."

Card-u-i, the woman's tonic, purely vegetable, safe, gentle and reliable in its action, has helped many women in the past 40 years, and should do the same for you. If you suffer from womanly troubles, try Card-u-i. NCB-11

SOCIAL EVENTS

LEESMAN—NOFFKE.

The following is taken from the Columbus Republican, relative to the marriage of Miss Margaret Leesman and Carl Noffke. Miss Leesman is well known in this city and has visited here a number of times:

Miss Margaret Leesman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Leesman, of Lafayette avenue, and Carl Noffke, of Indianapolis, were quietly married this afternoon by the Rev. Frederick Wambsganss, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church, at the home of the officiating clergyman on Fifth street. The ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock and was witnessed by the bride's sister, Miss Laura Leesman, and the brother of the bride-groom, Elmer Noffke, of Indianapolis.

The bride was married in a modish tailored blue coat suit with corresponding accessories. Immediately after the ceremony the newly wedded couple left for their home in Indianapolis which was beautifully furnished at 1838 Rural street.

Mr. Noffke is a machinist and is employed with the Midway Machine Company and is a most estimable young man. His bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leesman and possesses many personal charms and accomplishments. Several social events in her home preceded the wedding.

PICNIC.

Misses Ethel Rottman, Mary Gillespie, Catherine Hancock, Mary Lee Galbraith, Mrs. Clifford Star, Mrs. L. C. Hodapp, Robert White, George Laupus, Louis Cordes and James Hancock were members of a picnic party Thursday afternoon at Tanglewood. The party returned to this city early in the evening and had supper at the restaurant. Later they went to Mrs. Starr's home on Indianapolis Avenue, and spent the evening.

SWIMMING PARTY.

Miss Dora Johnson entertained with a swimming party Thursday evening from 7 until 9 o'clock in the swimming pool at the Shields park. Afterwards a supper was served at the Eagle Restaurant.

Those present were Misses Virgie and Clara Taskey, Minnie Green, Josephine and Greaston Garloch and Emma Hamilton.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED.

ARE EXEMPT FROM PAYING TAX

ard form prescribed by the government which is to be filled out by the official making application for exemption. According to form the official certifies that the purchase of the ticket is for official business and not for private purposes and is exempt from tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1918.

Counties, cities and other municipalities are also entitled to tax exemption on amounts paid for the transportation of property. A special tax is charged for the transportation of property and the state examiner calls attention to the fact that the public official can save the amount of the tax for the government he represents providing he fills out a special form prescribed showing that the property described in the way bill, bill of lading, freight bill and express receipts belongs to the city, town or other municipalities entitled to tax exemption.

Circular No. 9 issued by the United States Railroad Administration regarding "Rates on Road Building Materials" on April 14, 1919, provides that railroads under Federal control, on carload shipments of stone, (broken crushed and ground) slag, shells, chatts, chert, sand and gravel, shipped during the period from May 1 to December 31, 1919, inclusive, when for use in road building or road maintenance, Federal, State, County, Parish, township or municipal government, shall apply rates as follows:

"The reduced rates to be applied on such material shall be ten cents per net ton less than the regularly published tariff rates in effect for the transportation of these materials for commercial uses at the time shipments move; but with a minimum charge of forty cents per net ton, except that where the regularly published commercial rate is less than forty cents per net ton, then such regularly published rate shall apply.

As the freight has to be paid by the county or other municipality receiving the shipment, in order to secure the war tax exemption, the question has been asked how freight charges could be claimed for same being first allowed by the board of commissioners or common council. It has been suggested by the state examiner that a general order be made by the board of commissioners to the auditor, or by the council to the city clerk, to draw warrants for freight charges. Under such an order the warrants could be drawn and the board of commissioners or common council could later allow the various claims for freight so paid.

In his letter the state examiner also points out that counties, cities and other municipalities are entitled to exemption from the tax on telephone and telegraph charges on messages relating to official business. It is the opinion of the state examiner that where officials have erroneously paid war tax, it will be possible to get a refund on same. This matter has been taken up with the Assistant Collector of internal revenue for this district and a ruling on same will be given soon.

100,000 CONSTRUCTION WORKERS IN CHICAGO OUT

Action Follows Demand of Employes for Flat Increase of 20 Cents an Hour.

By United Press

Chicago, July 18.—100,000 building and street construction workers were locked out of here today on orders of the Carpenters' and Contractors' Association and the Building Construction Employers' Association, following refusal of 80,000 of the men to return to the work. The men asked a flat increase of 20 cents an hour. The employes agreed to grant them 12½ cents more than they were getting. An ultimatum was issued last night giving the men until 8 a. m. today to resume work. When no men showed up at that hour the lockout order was issued.

The lockout order ties up more than $50,000,000 worth of building and street improvement work in Chicago. Dozens of projects were pending.

Wage loss to the men thrown out of work was estimated at $600,000.

Correct Lubrication Is Tractor Insurance

NO matter how good your tractor may be it cannot give satisfactory service unless it has proper lubrication.

This means not only plenty of oil, but the correct oil, properly applied.

After long years of experience the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has produced three oils which will correctly lubricate the entire range of tractors.

These in the order of their viscosity are:

Heavy Polarine Oil

Stanolind Tractor Oil

Extra Heavy Polarine Oil

Any Standard Oil representative will be glad to show you the chart of Tractor lubrication, prepared by our Engineering Staff. It indicates specifically which of these three oils the Standard Oil Engineers have found will give the best results in your particular tractor.

We have just published a 100-page book "Tractors and Tractor Lubrication," prepared by our engineering staff, which you will find a valuable reference book, and we believe it will save you many days of tractor idleness with the resultant money loss. It's free to you for the asking. Address.

Some farmers report they are having difficulty in handling their grain from the threshing machines this year because of the sack shortage. For several years a sack exchange has been operated here, and the farmers could rent sacks for a small amount per day. Several weeks ago, however, the sacks owned by the exchange were sold at auction. Practically all the wheat is brought to the local markets loose.

WAR TAX ON EXPENSIVE BURIAL CASKETS CHARGED

Local Undertakers Are Warned that 5 Per cent. Must Be Collected For Government.

Local undertakers are receiving warnings that a 5 per cent. war tax must be charged on burial caskets of the higher grades. The law specifically states that where caskets are fitted with precious metals, the war tax must be charged.

The majority of caskets, it is pointed out, are finished with precious metals, especially the handles and some of the more conspicuous parts of the decorations. Undertakers who do not charge the war tax are subject to a penalty the same as persons engaged in other business which domes under the luxury tax law.

Casket manufacturers are making an effort to have the law changed to apply only to the metal parts of the casket which could be sold separate. As the law is now interpeted the tax is to be charged on the entire cost of caskets that are ornamented or fitted with precious metals.

Lesson Three July 20 Third Quarter

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The Lord's Supper

Matt. 26:26-30; I Cor. 11:23-34.

GOLDEN TEXT.—For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come.—2 Cor. 11:26.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Mark 14:22-26; Luke 22:14-20; I Cor. 10:14-21.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Remembering Jesus (Luke 22:19).

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Lord's Supper reminds us of Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The meaning of the Lord's Supper.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—Communion with Christ and with one another.

I. The Institution of the Lord's Supper (Matt. 26:26; 1 Cor. 11:23).

1. Time: It was on the night of the betrayal of Jesus, just after the betrayer had been announced.

2. The circumstances: In connection with the eating of the Passover. At the command of Jesus the disciples made ready the Passover, and while they were eating, Jesus took bread, blessed it and gave it to the disciples.

3. Elements: (1) The bread. This doubtless was the common bread of the Passover feast. (2) The cup. This cup consisted of the fruit of the vine.

II. The Significance of the Lord's Supper (Matt. 26:26-28; I Co. 11:24-26).

Jesus took natural and literal elements and made them to be symbols of his own body and blood. Just as our bread and drink are assimilated into brain and brawn, becoming an integral part of our body, so by means of these symbols the communicant partakes of Christ. He becomes a part of us and we are in him. It is both a memorial and a prophecy.

1. A memorial of the Lord (Luke 22:19). When he went away he left the bread and the cup for the disciples by which to remember him. Those who love him will desire to keep sacred this memorial.

2. To show the Lord's sacrificial death (I Cor. 11:26). He did not die as a hero or as an example of unselfish devotion, but as a substitutionary ransom. On the cross he made expiation for our sins.

3. It is a guaranty that our sins are forgiven (Rom. 4:25). When the believer partakes of these elements his faith is confirmed. "It is a signet of the Son of God attached to redemption."

4. Through them the believer received Christ (I Cor. 10:16). He thereby participates in the body and blood of Christ, becoming a member of his body. Christ liveth in the believer (Gal. 2:26). The Holy Spirit communicates the life of Christ to believers, making them one body, joined together (Eph. 4:16). This union is illustrated by the figure of the human organism (I Cor. 12:12-27); the vine and branches (John 15:1-8); the husband and wife (Eph. 5:25, 26); we are one bread and one body (I Cor. 10:17).

5. A forward look to a completed redemption (I Cor. 10:26). When faith is exercised in Christ, redemption begins, and its completion will take place at the coming of Jesus Christ (I Thess. 4:16, 17). The bread and the cup constitute the keepsake of the Lord until he returns. These elements possess an immense psychological value both as a memorial and a prospect.

III. Qualifications for Participation in the Lord's Supper (I Cor. 11:27-34).

1. A proper apprehension of its meaning (v. 27). Eating and drinking "unworthily" does not refer to the demerit of the communicant, but to the failure of the communicant to grasp its meaning and importance. Therefore, to thoughtlessly engage in this service is to do it "unworthily." Only a regenerated person can discern the Lord's body (v. 29, cf. 2:14). Faith in the integrity of Christ's person and work is essential. Anyone who does not believe in the absolute deity of Christ and his vicarious atonement is an unworthy communicant.

2. Church membership (I Cor. 11:18-22). The Lord's body is the church which is composed of regenerated men and women, united to Jesus Christ as head and to each other as members of that body by the Holy Spirit.

3. Orderly walk. The disorderly should be debarred from the Lord's table, examples of which are the following: (1) Immoral conduct (I Cor. 5:1-13). It is perilous to the individual who is guilty of immorality to approach the Lord's table (v. 30). Sickness and death are oftentimes visited upon such. This explains why some are mysteriously taken away in death. (2) Heresy (Titus 3:10; John 4:2, 3). (3) Schismatics (Rom. 16:17). Those who are causing divisions in the church should be debarred.

BUTLER FAVORS SPECIAL SESSION

booths and with the same tickets as the men, thus saving the expense of separate election boards, special ballots, etc."

Mr. Butler declared that he is convinced that the penal and benevolent institutions of the state are in need of additional funds. "I favor additional appropriations for the maintenance of the state institutions," he said. "Any fair minded person must admit that it is an impossibility to make appropriations based on prewar prices or even on prices of only a few months back meet the costs of the present day and I would hate to think that I would ever become so heartless as to allow petty politics to influence me to deprive the inmates of these institutions of the bare necessities of life, to make their misfortunes greater for a little political 'bunk,' supposedly for my own personal benefit."

Mr. Butler has strongly advocated the passage of the depository law for trust funds held by public officials, which passed the house but was sidetracked in the senate. He will endeavor to secure passage of this law when the special session convenes.

"I voted for the depository law covering trust funds as well as all other public funds in the hands of county officials. This bill passed the house but for some reason was sidetracked in the senate. The people of Jackson county do certainly appreciate the importance of this legislation and I will most heartily approve passage of such a law at the special session."

MERCHANT FINANCIAL WRECK

"I am a financial wreck because of the expense of doctors and medicine for my wife. She has been a chronic sufferer for 10 years. Some pronounced it gall stones, some gastritis and some intestinal inflammation. I happened to read an ad of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and from the first dose my wife has steadily improved." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by Druggists Everywhere.

A Columbus constable was recently given the job of recovering a stove which had not been paid for from a resident of that city. He notified the lady of the house that he was coming after it after which he secured a dray and started on his mission. When he arrived at the house he found the stove red hot, the lady having built up a hot fire in it. However, the constable could not be bluffed and with the assistance of some cloth protections he dragged the stove out in the yard where he shoveled out the coals and loaded it on the truck and turned it over to the owner.

WHEAT YIELD IN COUNTY WILL ALMOST BE NORMAL

Early Fears That the Crop Would be Light Are Dissipated by a Number of Big Returns.

Early fears that the wheat crop in Jackson county would be much lighter than usual are rapidly disappearing with the arrival of hundreds of bushels daily at the local mills and elevators. Some of the wheat that has been delivered here is of exceptionally fine quality and a number of farmers report that the yield per acre is the largest in their experience. Quite a lot of wheat testing sixty-one pounds has been received in Seymour and only a comparatively small percent. shows an exceptionally low test.

However, in some sections of the county the wheat is not thrashing out as much as the farmers had anticipated. In nearly every instance, however, the cause can be traced to a poor quality of seed and many farmers who have suffered such losses are planning to change their seed next year. The rusts did some damage, but it was not nearly as extensive as first believed.

Mrs. H. B. Carter returned to her home in Louisville this morning after a visit with Mrs. Chauncey Goodwin.

Miss Kate Andrews, Misses Agnes Andrews and Catherine Rider left this morning for Brown county.

CHAPTER V.

Old Friends.

Next morning I did as the "king" had told me to do. The whole program was carried out just as he had planned it. I made my goodbys in the settlement, as we had arranged, not forgetting to say "Dieu et mon Droit" to Sweeney, and watching with some humorous intent how he would take it. He took it quietly, as a man in a signal box takes a signal, with about as much emotion and with just the same necessary seriousness.

"Tell the boss," he said—of course he meant the "king"—"that we are looking after him. Nothing'll slip through here, if we can help it. Good luck!"

So I went down to the boat—to old Tom once more, and the rest of our little crew, who had long since exhausted the attractions of their life ashore and were glad, as I was, to "H'ist Up the John B. Sail."

Down in my cabin I looked over some mail that had been waiting for me at the post office. Amongst it was a crisp, characteristic word from Charlie Webster—for whom the gun will ever be mightier than the pen:

"Tobias escaped—just heard he is on your island—watch out. Will follow in a day or two."

I came out on deck about sunset. We were running along with all our sails drawing like a dream. I looked back at the captain, proud and quiet and happy there at the helm, and nodded a smile to him, which he returned with a flash of his teeth. He loved his boat; he asked nothing better than to watch her behaving just as she was doing. And the other boys seemed quiet and happy too, lying along the sides of the house, ready for the captain's order, but meanwhile content to look up at the great sails and down again at the sea.

We were a ship and a ship's crew all at peace with one another, and contented with ourselves—rushing and singing and spraying through the water. We were all friends—sea and sails and crew together. I couldn't help thinking that a mutiny would be hard to arrange under such a combination of influences.

Tom was sitting forward plaiting a rope. For all our experiences together he never implied that he was anything more than the ship's cook, with the privilege of waiting upon me in the cabin at my meals. But of course he knew that I had quite another valuation of him, and as our eyes met I beckoned to him to draw closer to me.

"Tom," I said, "I have found my treasure."

"You don't say so, sar."

"Quite true, Tom," I continued; "you shall see my treasure tomorrow; meanwhile read this note." Tom was so much to me that I wanted him to know all about the details of the enterprise we shared together, and in which he risked his life no less than I risked mine.

Tom took out his spectacles from some recess of his trousers and applied himself to Charlie Webster's note, as though it had been the Bible. He read it as slowly, indeed, as if it had been Sanscrit, and then folded it and handed it back to me without a word. But there was quite a young smile in his old eyes.

"'The wonderful works of God,'" he said presently. "I guess, sar, we shall soon be able to ask him what he meant by that expression."

Soon the long, dark shore loomed ahead of us. I had reckoned it out about right. But the captain announced that we were in shoal water.

"How many feet?" I asked, and a boy threw out the lead.

"Sixteen and a half," he said.

"Go ahead," I called out.

"Do you want to go aground?" asked the captain.

For answer I pushed him aside and took the wheel. I had caught the smallest glimmer, like a night light, floating on the water.

"Drop the anchor," I called.

The light inshore was clear and near at hand, about one hundred yards away, and there was the big murmur and commotion of the long breakers over the dancing shoals. The tide was running out very fast, and the white sand coming ever nearer to our eyes in the moonlight; and Samson's light, there, was keeping white and steady. With the thought of my treasure and the "king" so near by it was hard to resist the temptation to plunge in and follow my heart ashore. But I managed to control the boyish impulse, and presently we were all snug, and some of us snoring below decks, rocked in the long swells of the shoal water that gleamed milkily like an animated moonstone under the stars—old Sailor curled up at my feet, just like old times.

I woke just as dawn was waking too, very still and windless; for the threatening nor'easter had changed its mind, and the world was as quiet as though there weren't a human being in it. As the light grew I scanned the shore to see whether I could detect the entrance of the hidden creek; but, though I swept it up and down again and again, it continued to justify the "king's" boast. There was no sign of an opening anywhere. Nothing but a straight line of brush, with mangroves here and there stepping down in their fantastic way into the water. And yet we were but a hundred yards from the shore. Certainly "Blackbeard"—if the haunt had really been his—had known his business; for an enemy could have sought him all day along this coast and found no clue to his hiding place.

But presently, as my eyes kept on seeking, a figure rose, tall and black, near the water's edge, a little to our left, and shot up a long arm by way of signal. It was Samson; and evidently the mouth of the creek was right there in front of us—under our very noses, so to say—and yet it was impossible to make it out. However, at this signal, I stirred up the still sleeping crew, and presently we had the anchors up, and the engine started at the slowest possible speed.

The tide was beginning to run in, so we needed very little way on us. I pointed out Samson to the captain, and, following the "king's" instructions, told him to steer straight for the negro. Samson stood there and called:

"All right, sar. Keep right on. You'll see your way in a minute."

And, sure enough, when we were barely fifty feet away from the shore, and there seemed nothing for it but to run dead aground, low down through the floating mangrove branches we caught sight of a narrow gleam starting inland, and in another moment or two our decks were swept with foliage as the Flamingo rustled in, like a bird to cover, through an opening in the bushes barely twice her beam; and there before us, snaking through the brush, was a lane of water which immediately began to broaden between palmetto-fringed banks, and was evidently deep enough for a much larger vessel.

"Plenty of water, sar," hallooed Samson from the bank, grinning a huge welcome. "Keep a-going after me," and he started trotting along the creek side.

Samson went trotting along the twisting banks, we cautiously feeling our way after him, for something like a quarter of a mile; and then, coming round a sudden bend, the creek opened out into a sort of basin. On the left bank stood two large palmetto shanties. Samson indicated that there was our anchorage; and then, as we were almost alongside of them, the cheery halloos of a well-known voice hailed us. It was the "king;" and as I answered his welcome the morning suddenly sang for me—for there, too, was Calypso at his side.

The water ran so deep at the creek's side that we were able to moor the Flamingo right up against the bank, and when I had jumped ashore and greeted my friends, and the "king" had executed a brief characteristic fantasia on the manifest advantages of having a hidden pirate's creek in the family, he unfolded his plans, or rather that portion of them that was necessary at the moment.

Health and Happiness

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. Worthline, 2842 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time

ASK FOREIGN ATTITUDE TOWARDS RESERVATIONS

One Senator Thinks Other Nations May Make Exceptions in Covenant.

By United Press

Washington, D. C., July 18.—Foreign governments are being sounded on their attitude towards the proposed Root reservations to the peace treaty, in the event the senate should adopt one or all of them, a leading administration senator said today.

This senator, who declined to be quoted directly, indicated the belief that if the senate adopts reservations, counter reservations will be proposed by at least one other government.

The general result, he declared, would be:

1. Serious delay in carrying out the peace settlement, through delaying final ratification by a sufficient number of powers to make the treaty effective.
2. Hampering the immediate and successful launching of the league of nations.
3. Reopening of questions presumed settled by the treaty.

GERMANY WANTS AMERICAN CREDIT

from half or five eighths of the raw materials thus manufactured, I believe we could repay our credits."

Herr Wasserman emphasized the advisability of the entente and America taking steps by which the value of the German mark could be stabilized for a year or two.

Wasserman, who is one of Germany's leading financiers, is also a close follower of political and social affairs, was asked incidentally, what he thought of the socialization of Germany.

"From the political standpoint it is purely an internal question," he answered, "but from an economic course it interests foreign nations. I believe socialist political control could be accomplished, but as for actual and complete industrial socializing there is no chance at present. That will be a process of evolution. You can't force socialism on a whole nation at one stroke.

"I do believe that if Germany were socialized other countries would not deal with her, but America and the other powers need have no cause for worry from that standpoint."
